ACHIEVEMENTS

- Hackathon 2023 certificate 2023
Winning the hackathon was a testament to our team's dedication and innovative spirit. With relentless determination, we crafted a cutting-edge sports management system that promises to revolutionize how sports events are organized and managed. From seamless registration processes to real-time analytics, our solution stands as a beacon of efficiency and convenience.
- Hacktoberfest 2022 & 2023 2022 & 2023
Recipient of the prestigious Hacktoberfest award for outstanding contributions to open source software development. Demonstrated expertise in collaborating with global developer communities and delivering high-impact contributions to multiple projects. Recognized for dedication, innovation, and leadership in the field of software engineering.
- Web technology tranining certificate 2022
Having completed an immersive web development training program, I've acquired a robust skill set that spans the entire development process. From crafting responsive layouts with HTML and CSS to building dynamic, interactive experiences with JavaScript and framework React, I've honed my abilities through hands-on projects and real-world challenges. My training has equipped me with the knowledge to design elegant user interfaces, integrate with MongoDB Database, and deploy web applications using modern tools and technologies. With a solid foundation in both front-end and back-end development, I'm eager to apply my expertise to create innovative solutions and contribute effectively to dynamic development teams.
- Sololearn Completing the SoloLearn course in HTML and CSS has been an invaluable learning experience for me. Through their interactive modules and hands-on exercises, I gained a deep understanding of foundational web development concepts and techniques. From structuring content with HTML to styling web pages with CSS, I've developed the skills necessary to create visually appealing and responsive websites. The bite-sized lessons and quizzes offered by SoloLearn were instrumental in reinforcing my knowledge and keeping me engaged throughout the learning process. Armed with this expertise, I'm excited to leverage my HTML and CSS skills to bring innovative designs to life and contribute meaningfully to web development projects. 2021
